

Debility

Perhaps you eat enough, yet you do not get much benefit from your food. You keep thin and weak; are tired all the time, and your nerves are in a bad way. Why not strengthen your digestion and get rid of your debility?

Read these words from Mrs. E. G. Munro, of Coburg, Victoria. Mrs. Munro also sends her photograph.

"I suffered greatly with indigestion and debility for a long time. Sleep did not refresh me, and I was in a very bad state. One of my friends strongly recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after a good deal of hesitation I made up my mind to try it. To my great surprise, I had not taken one-half a bottle before I felt greatly improved in every way. I only took three bottles, and I can now honestly say that I am entirely free from all of my old troubles, and consider myself perfectly cured. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is certainly a wonderful blood medicine."

STOESSEL WAS A WEAK MAN

Port Arthur Could Have Held Out Much Longer.

"Blockade-runners, loaded with supplies, ran into Port Arthur up to four weeks of the time that General Stoessel capitulated, and, for that reason, in my opinion General Stoessel had no good cause for surrendering Port Arthur."

So says J. E. Kearney, at Canton & Neill's Iron works, who arrived here last week from the Far East where he spent the past eight months in the blockade-running business. Mr. Kearney is a machinist by trade and was a blockade-runner by chance.

"I was on a blockade-runner at sea from September until December, when I switched off to do blockade running on land, and was in Mukden up to two days before its capture by the Japs. I cannot tell you the name of the steamship on which I was employed as chief engineer, but the name of it would be in the nature of a surprise in the shipping world. It would also surprise the world to learn that Japanese were engaged in the same class of work as myself. It was a paying business and everybody made money. I received 1100 roubles per month, and had opportunities to make a lot of money on my own hook.

"We ran from Chinese ports to Pigeon Bay where we made arrangements to slip by the Japanese fleet, stretched out in three cordons off Port Arthur, during the night time. We ran without lights, of course, and by a prearranged signal, which I am not at liberty to divulge, we ran under the guns protecting the mouth of the harbor and passed in without being challenged by the Russians. The Japanese had to keep away at a great distance from the mouth of Port Arthur owing to the danger believed to lie in floating mines. We were never fired on. We chose misty nights for our work. We anchored in the outer harbor and landed our supplies, which consisted of provisions, ammunition and general merchandise. Port Arthur was well provisioned throughout the siege and the fortress had plenty of ammunition as well. General Stoessel had 30,000 men on duty, despite reports to the contrary. He was a weak man, and therefore surrendered when he did not have to. I saw him quite often. Most of the warships were in good shape as far as I could learn, although guns had been removed from some of them to mount on land batteries. The Japanese had the range of the town pretty well and dropped shells in places where they did great damage.

"Finally I quit the blockade-runners, and went to Tien Tsin where I took the railroad running up north into Manchuria. The Japanese had the main line running between Port Arthur and Mukden, but there was another line far to the westward, controlled by the Chinese. From the railroad we struck off across country and came to Mukden from the north and west. There I met War Correspondent Little, who was a passenger on the Korea yesterday, and several others. "Although I was in the pay of the Russian government, I was something of an outlander. I saw Kuropatkin several times, but my work brought me in contact with General Gregorovich, chief of the transportation work. Our arrangements were to take ammunition from Mukden across country to the railroad line, then down the country to the Gulf of Liaotung. There the stuff was loaded on to junks and by them taken out and loaded into a blockade-runner. We carried the shells wrapped up in hides and bags used by the Chinese for carrying oil."

YOU RUN NO RISK.
You need not hesitate to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If you are not satisfied with the results after using two-thirds of the bottle according to directions you may return it to your dealer and your money will be refunded. Here is what the Greer Drug Co., Granite, Oklahoma, U. S. A., say concerning it: "We feel free to guarantee every bottle for we know we will not have to redeem them." ## BATH IN CHARGE OF PALAMA MISSION

James A. Rath, a recent arrival from the Springfield, (Mass.), Y. M. C. A. training school has taken charge of the Palama Mission, in place of Rev. Arthur Logan, who has returned to the mainland. Mr. Rath will rehabilitate the work, and will work along social as well as evangelistic lines. He will provide a free library, and will also fit up quarters for the playing of games. Mr. Rath is an energetic-looking man, and has promise of success in his work.

LET THEM TELL IT.

The Public Utterances of Honolulu Citizens Are What Count. Publicity is What the People Want. Let them tell it. Let the public speak on the subject. It means better understanding. Means less misery in Honolulu. Means confidence in a good thing. Home endorsement counts. Easier to believe your neighbors than strangers in a far-away town. Every box of Doan's Kidney Pills is backed by home testimony. Kidney disorders—urinary troubles—Are on the decrease here. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are Relieving backs and curing citizens. It is their daily work. Here's a case in point. "Cyrus S. Edison of Kapiolani Park, this city, says: "I am at present a teamster and came to the Islands fifteen years ago. Previous to that I drove a stage coach in the United States. These occupations necessitating my being out at all seasons were no doubt the cause of my kidney disorder. I had the ordinary symptoms of this complaint, and resorted to a host of things to cure it. All of them failed to do so, however, and when I had almost given up hope I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and got some at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. They did indeed relieve me and I am quite satisfied with the benefit they have been to me."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50). Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

William Hatch, of Denver, had a lively experience in Reno, Nev., the other evening. Mr. Hatch was wearing his evening clothes when he stopped at Joseph Brearly's saloon in the mining camp. The surprised miners in that hospitable resort yelled and took him prisoner. In spite of his protests he was taken to a rear room and mounted upon a drygoods box. Then a man took station at the door and announced that every one could view the exhibit at 50 cents each. For thirty minutes a stream of people paid their half dollars to look at Hatch. Later the miners escorted him to his club and spent the proceeds of the exhibition on refreshments.
